The Road Ahead

As we continue along on the road ahead, we learn the lessons that are essential for our journey. Through our travel, there will be peaks and valleys, there will be smooth and not so smooth roads, and there will be rainy days along with sun filled days.

There will be questions to ask and questions to answer, there will be decisions to make and problems to solve. There will be times when we must utilize the knowledge gained from the roads passed to help us to move on to the roads ahead.

There will be joys and sorrows to build our strengths, and loves and losses to build our courage. Our friends and families will be our guides — they will encourage and support us and hold our hands when we can not go on.

Our journey of life is not always easy and our path may not always be clear, but our belief in ourselves to be a success will keep us going strong and steadfast. — Suzanne Albrich

Seniors

Senior year-we thought it would never get here and now we are wondering if we are ready to move on with our lives. The long or not so long journey has finally led us to a bend in the road and it is time to say goodbye. As our road leads us away from West Chester, we realize that there are many ties that will lead us back. Whether it is a stroll down memory lane with a friend over a cup of coffee, a visit back to WCU, or a walk through the pages of this yearbook our years of college will never be lost.

Sadly, as we move on, we realize that these really were the best years of our lives. We think back for a moment and wonder if we did everything the way we should have or if we would change things had we been given another chance. For example, maybe we would not have waited until the night before to study for the exam, or maybe we would've had more courage to go up to that guy and ask him out, or maybe we would've chosen a different major. The truth is, we probably still would have done it the way we did the first time. It is because of this fact, that we must look back and smile at all our times spent here at WCU.

Although we may have cried a little and laughed a lot, we know it has helped to make us better people and that our travels forward will not be so hard if we remember the lessons that we have learned along the way.

As we venture out into the unpredictable world with a little confidence and resume is hand, we realize that our future is now. As we grab hold of the reigns and wave goodbye, we set out for an even more exciting future filled with family, friends, careers, and success.

— Suzanne M. Albrich

"I'm looking back through the years, down this highway. Memories, they all lead up to this one day."

Academics

For many of us starting college seems to have been a million miles ago. The Class of 1995 has reached its destination and it is time to choose which path we will take next. While we grew on our journey through friendships and experiences, we also developed our skills for the professional world.

Many times, the phrase "this class has no use whatsoever to me!" was screamed in the Quad. The truth is that as frustrating as it may have seemed, we did learn. Whether it was the realization that taking archery was not going to help us get into medical school or that microbiology is not relevant to the Accounting CPA exam; our world was broadened. Sometimes a single course brought us to change our majors and in a sense our lives. That is the strength and impact of academia, the ability to open our eyes and allow it to help shape our lives. So too has this shaped our road to graduation.

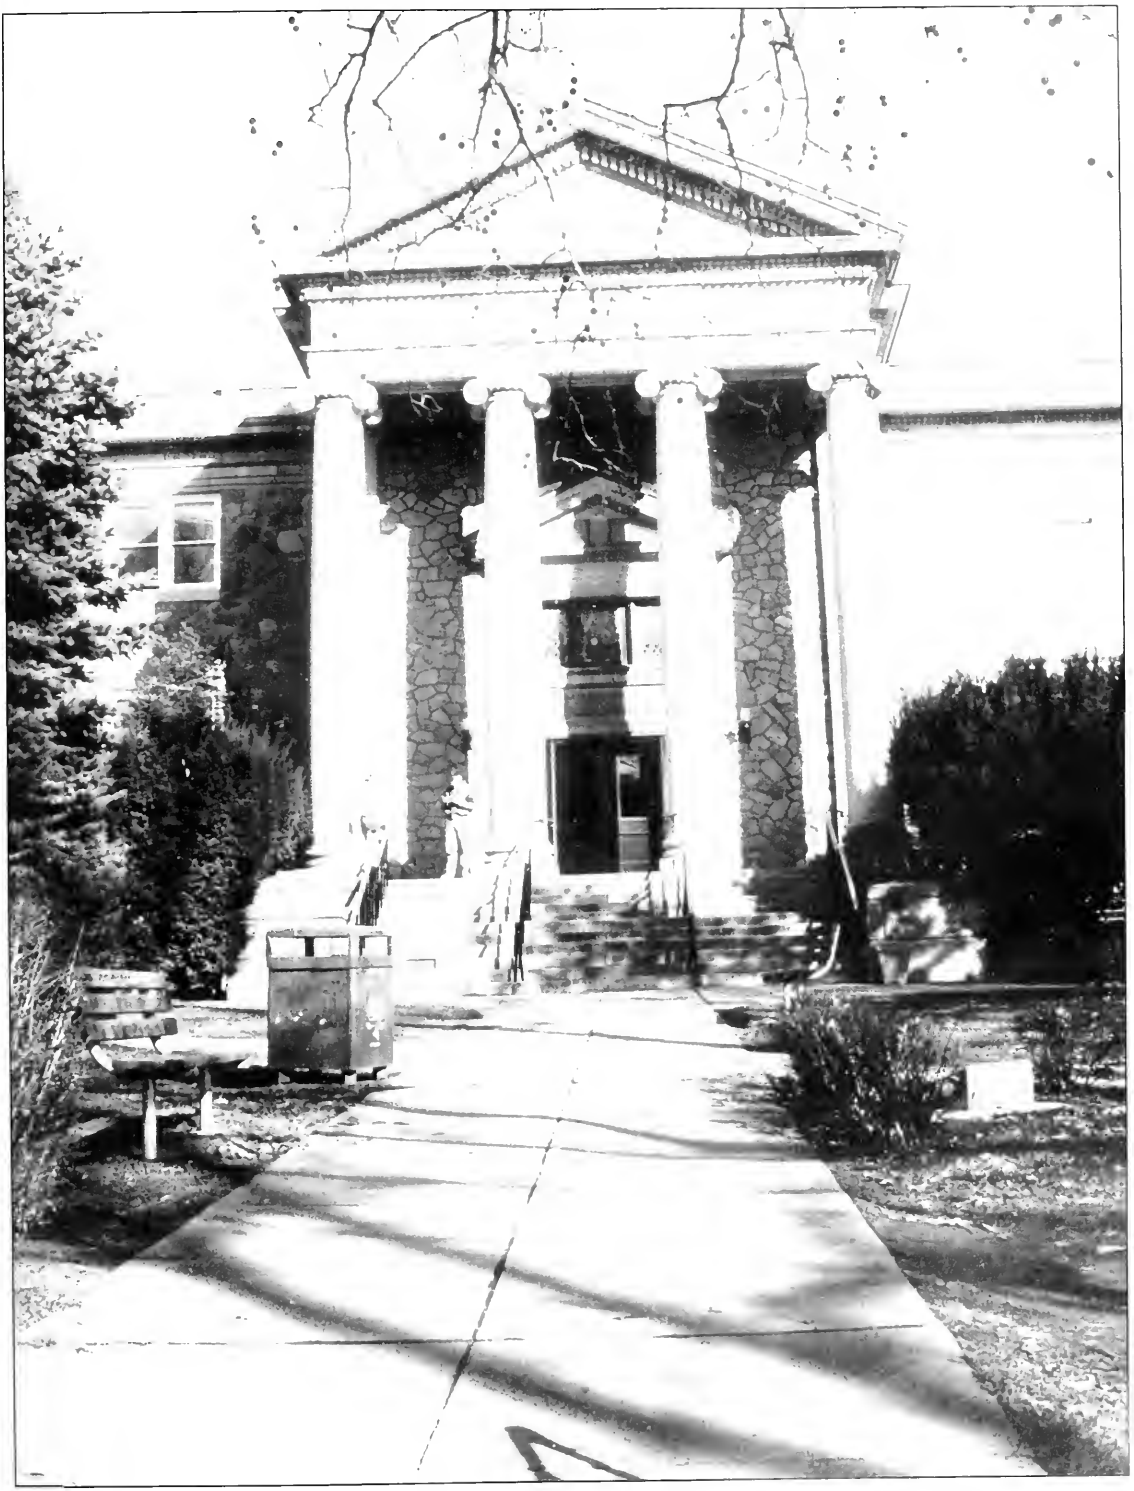
Now we face the challenge of choosing what new path we will be taking and where we want to go. We must keep several things in mind. First, that there are always choices available to us. Even if they are not always visible, they are out there. Second, we should always be willing to explore paths that are not on our direct route. You never know what is waiting around the next bend. Third, as we reach our goals, set out on new ones. The pursuit of knowledge is not temporary or achieved after a set amount of time. It is a continuing process that we start the day we are born into this world.

Finally, remember to look back every now and again. Reflect upon where you have been and where you are at the present time. Then look forward to decide where you will go and follow the road that will take you there.

— Patrick Herron

"We've walked the halls of learning and circled around tradition. The flame of truth is burning...look at how the future gleams, gold against the sky."

— From the movie "Sing"



West Chester University

A stroll down memory lane

When West Chester, the school, was first established in 1812 as a private, state-aided academy no one knew the many roads that the school would travel in its future. In 1871, the number of programs increased, athletic programs were begun, and new buildings were erected, including the first residence halls. It was during this time that the school was known as West Chester Normal School. On May 25, 1893, the students selected the schools colors to be purple and gold. By 1914 enrollment had increased and full time registration was required. On June 4, 1927, the name was changed to West Chester State Teacher's College and a Bachelor of Science in Education was first offered. However, in 1960 the name was again changed to West Chester State College, and then finally in 1983 it became known as West Chester University.

Many of the buildings are made of Serpentine stone, which is found only in the Chester County area in large amounts. The stone was mined locally and used to build Recitation, Old Library, and Ruby Jones. In addition, these three buildings along with Philips Memorial, have been placed on the National Register as official Historic sites.

Philips Memorial Building was built in 1925 and was named after D George Moris Philips, a faculty math teacher and Prinicipal of t Normal School.

Frederick Douglass

The story of his life and the roads he travelled

This year WCU held a two day workshop in honor of Frederick Douglass. The workshop held on the October 12th and 13th, had twenty sessions and four workshops on issues relating to the famous abolitionist.

Frederick Washington Bailey was born a slave in February of 1817 in Talbot County, Maryland. He lived with his grandparents until the age of eight, and at age nine, he was sent to Baltimore to serve Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Auld. Mrs. Auld taught Frederick to read until her husband opposed it and sent Frederick to work as an apprentice in a Baltimore shipyard. Frederick taught himself to write by tracing the letters on the prows of the ship.

On September 3, 1938, Frederick used seaman's papers to escape and to avoid recapture, took the surname Douglass.

In Massachusettes he met William Lloyd Garrison and began to work on the antislavery weekly newspaper The Liberator. In 1841, the antislavery society, impressed by Douglass' oratory skills, enlisted him as a member. His speeches denounced slavery and called for immediate abolition. Since Douglass was such a talented speaker, many people did not believe he was ever a slave. To promote his cause, in 1845, Douglass published the Narrative of the Life of Frederick Douglass . He risked the chance of reinslavement by going public, so he went abroad until 1847 when his freedom was purchased by British friends.

He settled in Rochester, New York, where he founded the newspaper The North Star.

During the Civil War, he frequently conferred with President Lincoln as a representative of his people.

During his life, Douglass served such positions as assistant secretary of the Santo Domingo Commission, Marshal, recorder of the deeds for the District of Columbia, and U.S. minister of Haiti.

Douglass was an active reformer. He fought for the rights of free blacks and slaves, and he also supported a number of other causes, such as women's rights.

Frederick Douglass died on February 20, 1895 after attending a women's suffrage meeting here, on West Chester's campus.

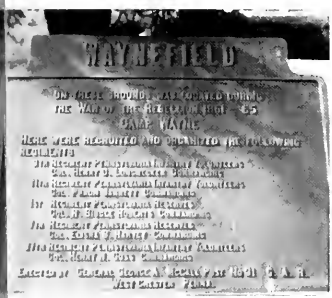
Doors of Opportunity

The road to success begins with the doors of opportunities. Many times we do not even realize how many opportunities we are given or that any door could lead to our success. It may seem as though we will have to walk through a million doors to become successful, but if you think of your recent accomplishments and the many doors you have had to pass through to get there then a million may not seem to be too many. When heading for each door on your road to success remember to be confident or you may not even get your foot in the door. Some doors will seem easy to open while others will seem impossible; just remember that your key to success is education.

Did you know...?

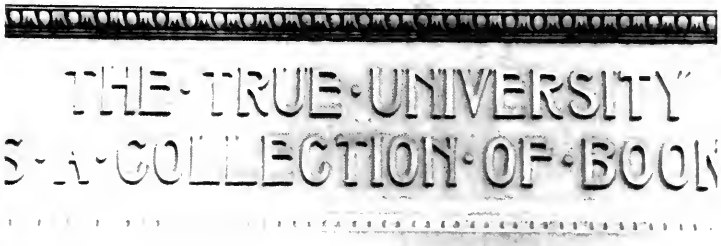
...that when the cornerstones of Recitation where laid, each senior placed a penny in the metal cornerstone box?
...that beside the library is the presidential walk with a tree planted for each of the University's Presidents?
...that Reynolds Hall is the oldest building on campus still in use?
...that the building of Wayne Hall sits on the site of Wayne Athletic Field where in 1890, a 600 seat grandstand was built? The stadium was burned 50 years later.
...that Tanglewood, home of President Adler, houses an original Andrew Wyeth painting and a clock formerly owned by Benjamin Franklin?
...that there were originally two seperate walkways leading to Recitation to keep men and women from mixing?
...that in 1886, the women made trips to town on Tuesdays and the men were allowed to go on Wednesdays to purchase necessities?

...at in 1934, the first school mascot a goat named Elmer and that the n was not introduced until 1957?



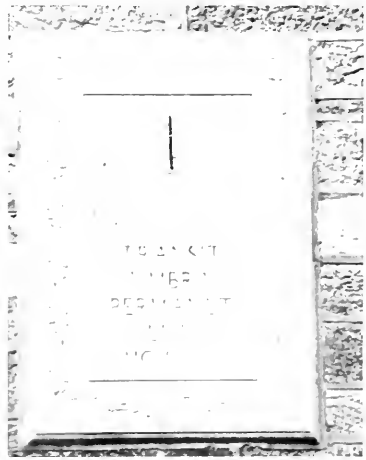
...that the area where Killinger and Wayne now stand used to be a camp nd medical grounds for General Wayne and his troops?

...at West Chester is the home for near- enty buffalo, who roam around on a n off of Burke Street?



...that the Old Library welcomes students through its large columns to this quote?

...that Philips has whispering chambers and what many believe to be a ghost?



...that a sun dial graces the outside wall of Philips Memorial?

Short Cuts

Short Cuts move us a little faster down the road of life when trying to reach our goals. There is nothing better than getting somewhere in less time than planned. It is like taking a vacation and saying, "Hey, we are making really great time!" Reaching a destination in less time than expected always leaves you with a feeling of success. Walking to class is one way to get someplace without taking a direct route. Many make their way through Schmucker on their way to Killinger or the Quad, while others head through Anderson when leaving Recitation to get to Church Street just a little quicker. Short cuts may help you get from one place to another in less time, but it is the fact that you have reached your goal that is important. So no matter which routes you have taken while at WCU, direct or scenic, you became a success the day you received your diploma. Congratulations.

The Journey of Life

University Avenue

WEST

The day before graduation, as I sit out on my lawn on Walnut Street, I notice two young children, a boy and a girl. I think to myself that they can not be more than five or six, and they are oblivious that I am watching them. The girl has a bottle of bubbles in her hand, and as she blows them into the air, the little boy laughs as he tries to catch them. I watch, I notice that the children are not just oblivious of me, but to everything around them. Their innocence suddenly strikes me as beautiful, and I find myself laughing and gaining joy from their happiness.

They are so young and sweet and gentle. They are just beginning, and have so many things to experience. As my mind wanders, I begin to think back to the roads that have left me to this point, and in particular, I reflect on my years at West Chester. The amount of knowledge that I have gained is tremendous. I don't mean book knowledge, sure there was plenty of that, but I mean the knowledge of life. Life that includes friends, love, and both good and bad times. As I look back, I realize that when I started as a freshman, I was, in a way, just like the children. I was very young and inexperienced, and I had so much to learn. Then again, I bet older people are looking back at me and thinking, "she has so much ahead of her in life and so much to learn." Perhaps that is what life is all about — road after road through many stages of learning. West Chester was definitely a wonderful road to take that has led me on a terrific journey.

CONGRATULATIONS
CLASS OF

Student life

Young or old, from far or near, we are all students of education and of life. In this crazy world, many choices are offered to us...class or an extra hour of sleep...parking illegally close to class or legally parking five blocks from campus...cafeteria food or ordering out...dividing time between classes, school work, a job, clubs, activities and athletics...socializing, studying, and hopefully sleep — even if it is only for three hours.

A students life is filled with happiness, fear, excitement, and anticipation. Throughout our years at WCU we travel a journey filled with cobblestones of emotions. From our first day to our last we feel fear and anticipation — feelings of the unknown. These feelings of uncertainty come from taking exams, scheduling for classes, grades, applying for that first job and just moving along on the road of life. Along our travels we also experience happiness and excitement when we pass a difficult class, become part of an organization, or earn our degree. Sometimes it is the smallest step down our journey that makes our life as a student more successful.

Even though our schedules seem ridiculous at times and we feel like we have no time to breathe, we realize that this is the life that we have chosen — a students' life. But no matter how full each of our lives become, we all realize at some time during our college careers that this is the road to a life full of family and friends, happiness, and success.

Down The Hall...

"It is now after 8pm please enter and exit through the front doors"-the sounds of the residence halls. Those who have spent any time living in the halls will never forget their first experience of a fire drill at 2 am or their first lock out. Becoming an expert chef as you whip together your famous mac-n-cheese in the illegal hot pot that was purchased in the campus bookstore. We will all remember playing Nintendo or huddled around the T.V. to watch Melrose Place. This is the stuff that memories are made of and the start of our independence.

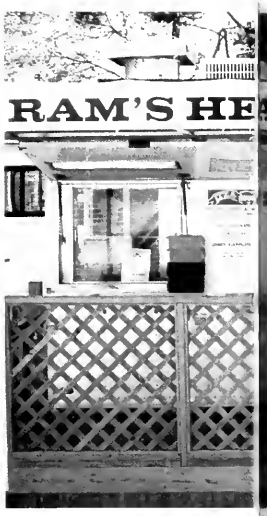
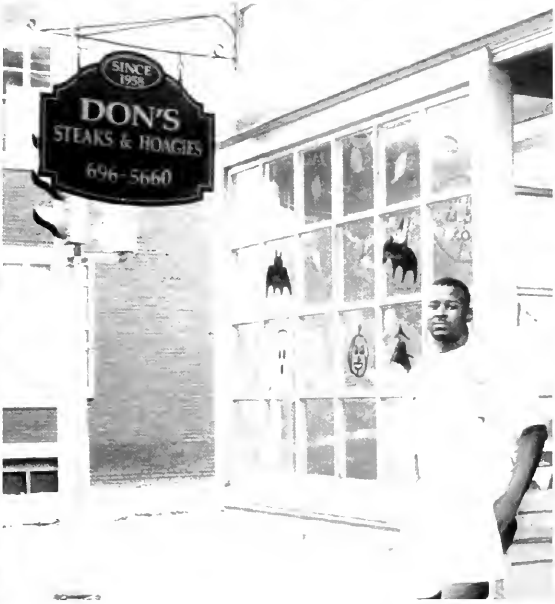
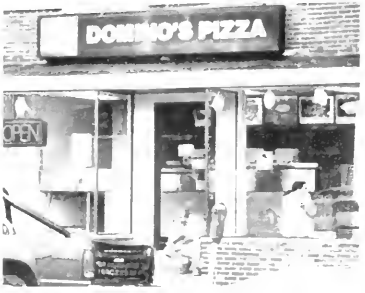
West Chester



Cuisine





Umm! Umm! Good!

Both West Chester University and the town offer students a wide variety of dining facilities. The Lawrence center, Campus Corner and the Annex Truck can satisfy even the hungriest appetite. Hot soups, sandwiches, salads, pastas and pizzas are served daily, while Traditions offers students a close to home made meal. For the best cheese steaks- Don's is the place. Craving the best? Give Domino's, Pop's or Little Man's a call. Inexpensive night out? Burger King, Pizza Hut and Denny's are the people's choice. And as always there's 7-Eleven for the late night slurpee run to ease the hardship of studying. Enjoy!

On the Road to Independence

Moving from the resident halls to either South Campus, or an apartment somewhere in the borough of West Chester is a big responsibility. However, once your off the world is your oyster. Well, almost. Don't forget about those monthly rent bills, shopping for your dinner and most importantly, cleaning the bathroom. West Chester University's student population is supplied by many students moving off campus. And of that population, very few would ever give up this new found freedom. Finding friends to move off and share rent bills with is what incoming freshmen look forward to. But when all the searching for the perfect house is found, with a washer and dryer of course, it is well worth it. For a college student it is just another milestone passed on the road to independence.

Parking

Finding the Perfect Spot

It is common knowledge to any student or teacher that has ever attended or worked at West Chester University- THERE IS NO PARKING! This parking problem has caused an added strain on the already stressful lifestyle of the student. The little yellow tickets from public safety and the large red tickets from the borough line the streets and bloom year round in our parking lots as little thank you's for attending this institution.

The towing business in West Chester has prospered and Earl has a "special" bond to the school. This problem has been addressed by students and faculty alike, and even is recognized quickly by visitors to the college. It is an on going problem that will still probably be addressed when the Class of 1995 has their 25th reunion. For now, watch where you park and keep paying those tickets or they'll come back to haunt you later!

Up the

... In Town

The community of West Chester immediately starts where the university ends. This beautiful town is nestled in the rolling hills of Chester County and rich in history. During the day there is much to do in the town itself and when night settles on the region, clubs and pubs come alive. West Chester is in the center of it all; near Philadelphia, close to the Poconos and only a stone's throw from the beach. It's rustic setting will grab your attention at first glance, but it remains with you where ever you may roam.

Off the Beaten Path

Making A Living

Many of West Chester students work while attending school to either pay for their education itself, living expenses, extra money or the entire package. These students work their shifts after or between classes at various places both on and off campus. Some of these places include working for the ARA dining services, in the library or in the science laboratories of Schmucker Center. Venturing off campus in search of money-producing jobs may lead students a few blocks or a few miles. Graduating seniors Suzanne Albrich and Bridget Ruth both work at the Exton Mall to pay for general necessities such as rent, car payments, food, and every bill known to an off-campus student. Many students must help to pay for their education, so whether they are photographing children or slinging burgers it is all helping them on their road to success.

Cabin Fever

After the winter weather of the previous year, 1995 snow storms were actually something to laugh at. With the number of storms that could be counted on one hand, West Chester University did not close down at all, of course all of the snow did fall on the weekends. But with the storms that we got, students did have to struggle with driving, shoveling their cars out of the spots and the icy conditions. However, some students are still kids at heart and they smiled at the newly fallen snow while making snow-men, sledding or having snowball battles.

Breaking Away

After eight weeks with no scheduled breaks and no snow days, March 17th was welcomed with open arms. Students flocked to various places ranging from the warm weather of Florida, the Carolina's and Georgia to going home to visit mom and dad or to work a few extra hours for a much needed supply of cash.

With maps or tickets in hand, students boarded planes, trains and automobiles with an itinerary filled with friends, families and fun. The thought of a fun-filled spring break is restful, but the wisdom of knowing that the semester is half over is even more relaxing. The long awaited days seemed to speed by too quickly leading us back to the daily grind.

After

The Night Life of W.C.U.

Although many students leave WCU for the weekend, those who stay find an array of events happening on and off campus. Whether it is an evening at the Rat or Jakes or a movie presented by SAC, it is all part of the West Chester nightlife. Some students choose to stay in and rent a movie from Flix and order a pizza from Amore, while others choose to venture to South Street, Atlantic City, or the Philly Waterfront. No matter what road is taken after hours, it is bound to lead to a good story for Monday classes.

Hours

In the Spotlight

Clubs, beer, and music are three of the most common things for the over 21 West Chester crowd. If you go to places such as our local Rex's or the Trocadero, in Philadelphia, you can hear the original sound of the local band called Redemtion. These enthusiastic youngsters mix metal, thrash, punk, and hardcore into a sound that has captured and stunned audiences and left them screaming for more.

The groups' latest independent release is titled Spare Some Change and is available on CD and cassette at West Chester's own The Mad Platter. Spare Some Change was recorded at the infamous Inner Ear Studio in Arlington, VA. Don Zientara, of Fugazi/Dischord Fame, engineered and produced the session, which captures the force that Redemption has been known for by its audience.

Events

From the day we are born, our lives follow a pathway. Every decision that is made contributes to the direction of this pathway. Events that take place during our lifetime decorate the road of life in order to make it interesting. Of all the events that we will experience throughout our lives, the first and most important one begins our journey down the road. The day we are born starts us off into a world of opportunities and experiences. Think of all the events and their impact that have brought you to this point in your life. Remember the feeling of the first day of school? Remember being the confident sixth grader showing the kindergarteners which bus to get on? Remember the anxious feeling returning on the first day of high school? Remember your driving permit test? Remember finally getting your license and being able to drive the family car on your own? Remember your first job and then that first paycheck? Remember your first date? How about your first love? Or what about your first heartbreak? Remember applying to colleges? What about the S.A.T.'s, interviews, and campus tours? Remember the feeling of accomplishment when the West Chester University acceptance letter came in the mail? Remember high school graduation and saying goodbye? Remember the first day at WCU? Let's not forget that anxious feeling. Remember your roommates, your classes, and cafeteria food? How about the late nights filled with pizza, gossip, and schoolwork? Remember the days you longed to be done with school? Before you knew it, graduation day was here. Resumes, job interviews and graduate school applications brought back the all too familiar anxious feeling that comes with the beginning of a new journey. All the events in your life have shaped your personality and made you who you are today.

HOMECOMING '94

On a sunny Saturday morning, excitement buzzed through the air as the final preparations for W.C.U.'s homecoming weekend took place. The festivities began Friday night with the traditional bonfire in Sanderson Court. Next, the annual parade took place on Saturday morning. The theme of this year's homecoming was "W.C.U. Salutes T.V. Sitcoms." A new route for the parade brought the action to the center of town. Hundreds of spectators lined the streets to see many W.C.U. students dressed in costumes, imitating their favorite shows. After the judges' final decision, the first place winner was Delta Phi Epsilon with "The Adams Family", the second place winner was Delta Zeta with "The Brady Bunch", and the third place winner was Phi Sigma Sigma with "Green Acres." In addition to the sitcom parodies, marching bands and floats entertained the audience.

FAMILY DAY '94

On Oct. 29th, WCU held its Family Day Program,which offered exciting activities throughout the day. Family Day offers something for everyone young and old alike. One of the highlights was the exciting football game that led to a win over Bloomsburg. "Where's the Band", an acappella group, performed that night at Swope Hall. There was also a series of academic discussions offered on campus,where topics ranged from the "World of Electron Microscopes" to "Wellness and the University Student'." Many different departments held open houses, including the Art department which also held an Exhibition of Works. Family Day was more than just a showcase for the people who pay the tuition. It was a time for students to bring together their family from home with their family at West Chester.

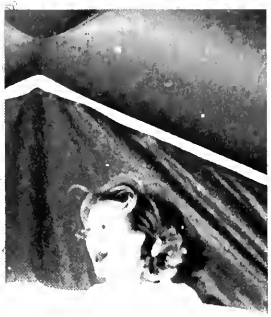
SPRING WEEKEND '95

WCU once again held a successful spring weekend. Friday night kicked off the weekend with a semi-formal dance. Everyone who attended enjoyed an evening of good food, good dancing, and good times. A carnival was held in Sanderson Court. The human gyro, sumo wrestling, and human bowling were a few of the activities the crowd enjoyed. Along with fortune tellers, dancing, and cotton candy, spring weekend was a success.



LUNCHTIME ENTERTAINMENT

Each year, WCU students are treated to a variety of free entertainment and fun that is provided by SAC. Those that participate are the real winners because they know a smart deal when they see one. What could be better than virtual reality, robot boxing, photos with old Saint Nick and of course the performances of SAC Club Tuesday. Talented artists like singer and songwriter Cathy Bratten are often on campus providing wonderful music at a price college students can afford, no charge!! Whether you prefer SAC night at the movies, Club Tuesday or Lunchtime Entertainment, there is always something for everyone.

INNOVATIONS

Innovations, a non-alcoholic night club has been active now for several years and keeps going strong. Run out of the Ram's Head Annex, Innovations provides the best in entertainment with nationally known comedy acts and great music. One of the big acts in recent years has been Carrot Top. Innovations is an S.S.I organization which is headed by Stephen R. McKiernan, Director of Student Programming and run entirely by students. Innovations is advertised as "a unique concept in entertainment," which is certainly an accurate description. Innovations is definitely a good time for all those who attend.

LEADERSHIP, UNITY

On September 21, Gavin Edwards, associate editor of Details magazine, hosted "Kurt Cobain: Reluctant Icon" for what was the first program in the Young Leadership Series Conferences. Edwards centered his program on the life of Cobain, Singer for the popular alternative group Nirvana, with an intensive look at his influence, both before and after death, on today's young generation. Edwards helped the audience to understand the more personal side of the elusive singer through anecdotes he learned during interviews with the band. After he was finished speaking, Edwards held a question and answer period where audience members could ask questions about Cobain, Nirvana, or else share their feelings concerning Cobains's suicide.

Several years ago, Tiananmen Square was a political hot spot, as 500,000 students demanded liberty from the tight grip of the Chinese government. Li Lu was a co-leader of those demonstrations and came here to WCU to share those experiences in China. A law student at Columbia, Li Lu has stood before peers and others at universities all around the country leaving man in awe of his strength and courage. When he spoke to the students at West Chester University in October, many were moved by his stories of suppression and denial of rights. Li Lu has worked diligently on behalf of the human rights movement. As spokesperson for the Alliance for a Democratic China, Li Lu speaks about a day when China finally achieves the move to democracy as started in Tiananmen Square.

IMAGE

AND VOLUNTEERISM

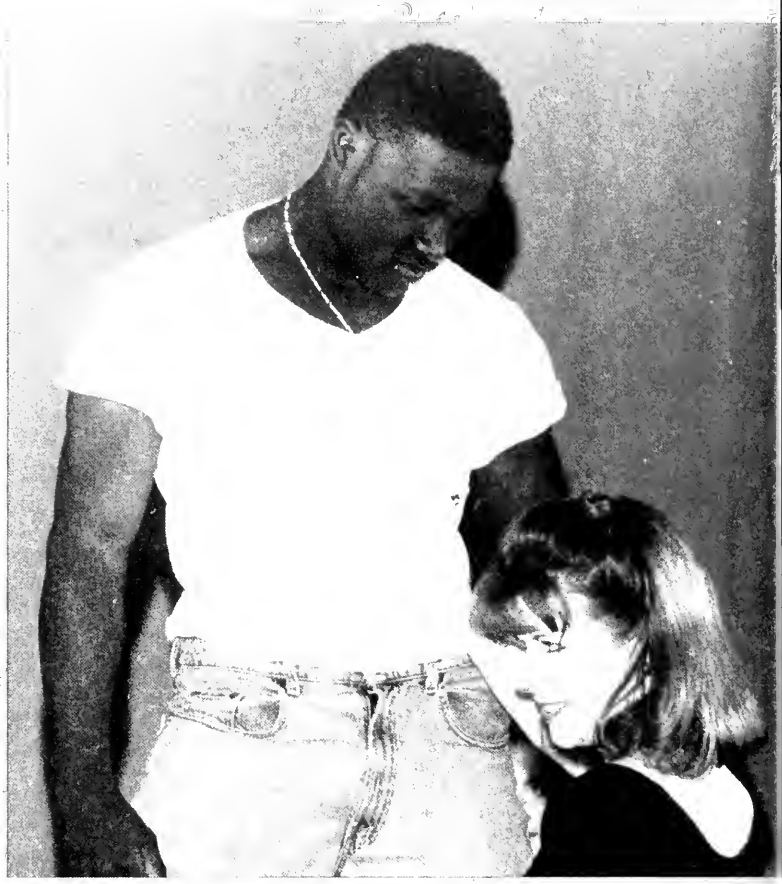
On February 7th Eric Liu spoke about "Politics and the Next Generation." As the first program of the spring semester in the L.U.V.I.M series, Mr. Liu thoroughly impressed the attendees with his accomplishments especially when learning he was only 25 years old. Some of those goals he has met are "The Next Progressive," a political journal he founded and is editor of the book, NEXT: Young American Writers of the Next Generation; and Mr. Liu is also a speechwriter for President Clinton. Mr. Liu does not plan on stopping there as he will be attending Harvard Law School this fall after finishing legislative aid positions to Senator David Boren and Secretary of State David Christor. Mr. Liu will surely be a political figure to watch for in the future.

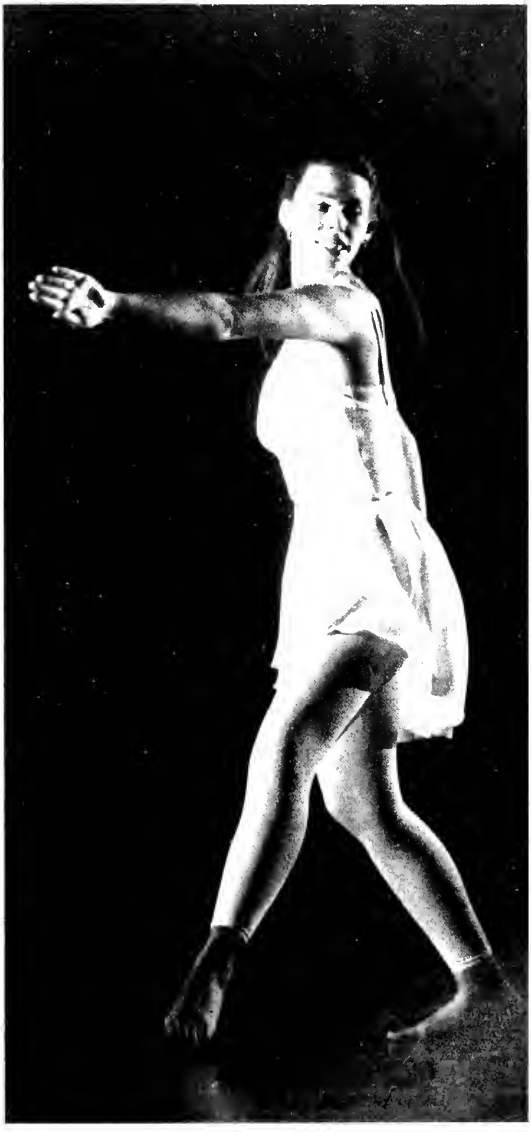
On February 28th, as part of the eighth annual tribute to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., the student programming department invited Jesse Jackson Jr. to come and speak. The subject of this highly interesting program was "Black Leadership and Empowerment for the Next Century & Thoughts on Dr. King." Mr. Jackson proved himself to be a dynamic speaker as he really motivated the crowd, especially during a special session with SGA and BSU. A human rights and political activist, Mr. Jackson is also a member of the Democratic National Committee, President of "Keep Hope Alive" and Vice-President of Operation Push. Many students left Schmucker Hall motivated with a feeling of hope primarily inspired by the enthusiasm of Jesse Jackson Jr.

MAKER

D.P.W.

W.C.U.'s Dance Production Workshop has once again put on a superb dance performance. This year's theme was "Fantasies." Each dance was the interpretation of the choreographer's fantasy. A variety of dances were performed such as ballet, modern, tap, and funk. This group of students worked hard to make the lighting, the costumes, and the dances work together in order to excite the audience. They achieved that excitement beyond their wildest fantasies.





BRIAN'S RUN

For the past 16 years, Brian Bratcher has looked forward to the fall. The occasion that he takes great pride in is the annual Brian's Run. This charity event has grown several fold over the years and has raised over $350,000 since its inception. The donations raised go to local people affected by spinal cord injury, traumatic head injury or stroke. Mr. Bratcher was injured in such a manner while playing football at Henderson High School in West Chester. Since then, Bratcher has been paralyzed from the neck down. That has not stopped him from achieving his goals. At 31, he is a successful graduate student studying counseling and secondary education.

Brian's Run is a 10 kilometer marathon organized entirely by volunteers. Many of these volunteers are students of WCU. Many campus organizations participate each year through various ways. Whether it be traffic control, registration, or running in the race, the students have always been an integral part of this worthwhile event.

Brian's Run has become a tradition at WCU and is a symbol of the kindness and dedication that binds people together.

THE EAGLE'S SUMMER NEST

During the summer months, West Chester University becomes a serene, quiet campus with few students milling about. All is calm until late July when suddenly everyone seems to be saying "There's that news van again!" South campus parking lots are now filled with people from the television stations, radio stations, and football fans of all kind. What's all the fuss? It is the Philadelphia Eagles Football Training Camp. West Chester University houses the Eagles for the summer practices as they gear up for the football season. Anxious fans wait outside Schmidt Hall to see their favorite football player emerge from the building. If they miss them there, it's off to the physical education building they go. Fans are sure to catch a glimpse and even maybe an autograph from an Eagle before they head down to the field to practice. The Eagles Training Camp has become a traditional event for the university as well as for the community of West Chester.

Organizations

The road to success is not always easy and there are some things, like our organizations, that help make the trip a little easier and more enjoyable. Although our journeys have all been in different directions, from media groups to student government, it was the feeling of involvement and acceptance that led us to become members of various student groups and activities. It was that drive that has given us friends and experiences that will be valuable in the future.

West Chester University has offered us so many opportunities and as we go our separate ways we hope that what we have gained will prepare us for what may lie ahead. Through our organizations and activities, we have all learned to be better individuals. We have learned how to work together as a team and we have learned how to take command. We have learned to be kind and understanding and when to lend a hand. We have learned to be patient and we have learned how to teach. We have learned to respect one another and to believe in ourselves. We have learned that although the world may be diverse, it is possible for us to live and work among one another. We now realize that we should appreciate, not condemn, one another for the different qualities and traits that they may posses.

Before we say goodbye to our friends, we remember all that we have learned. We also think of the fun and the memories that will last a lifetime. We look back one last time with diploma in hand...sigh...smile...take a deep breath...turn toward the future...and then we take our first step toward the future and the other activities and organizations that await.

The teams entertain and inspire. They also offer spectators a rush of emotional and a source if pride. Sports bring the college campus and surrounding communities together.

Individually, sports carry an even greater effect. Whether it is a steel baton, a leather ball, or just a winning determination, the things young athletes carry with them now can be carried forever. Through the hard work and determination involved, athletics teach important life lessons such as the ability to work as a team and the importance of physical fitness.

Living on in vibrant recollections, sports become useful tools in future problem solving or as a subtle reassurance of past solving or a subtle reassurance of past successes. Sports are timeless celebrations of the human body.

Teamwork, life-long friendships, and a sense of individual pride and accomplishment — all these and more can be carried by young athletes as they enter their journey to the road ahead.

FOOTBALL

Road Warriors!

This year's Golden Rams football team ended their season with a record of 7-3, marking the 15th straight winning season for Coach Rick Daniels. The good luck continued with impressive wins over Clarion, East Stroudsburg, Cheyney, Millersville, and California to lead the Rams into NCAA II contention. A heartbreaking loss to Ferris State evaporated any hopes of the Rams playing and winning the final championship.

Senior Dave MacDonald's "Mac attacks" created for an exciting season, enabling MacDonald to be named PSAC Athlete of the Year. MacDonald also made a name for himself in the record books as he broke numerous West Chester and PSAC records.

Outstanding performances were played by Brian Penecale, Jim Lindsay, Rich Neal, Montik Goodwin, Johnathon Rydel, and Paul Kofalt.

By the end of the season, Coach Krannebitter saw six members of her team out due to serious injuries. "I've never had a season like this before," she said. The remaining team members did not allow the injuries to dampen their spirit, however. They rallied together to produce an overall season of 7-13. Senior player Donine Remninger was the key player for the season scoring 26 points. Other key players were Kim Kline, Suzie Holubek, Kristen Smereczynski, and goalie Jenna Pappert.

WOMEN'S TENNIS

Serving Ahead

West Chester's eight member women's tennis team capped their fall season with an overall record of 3-6, and also finished seventh at the PSAC championships in Erie.

With only two graduating seniors in 1993, this year's team was left with a strong base of underclassment to start the season. Junior Kristen Bell returned to the court to team with junior Carrie Jefferies in doubles. Together they managed to help defeat rivals Millersville, Drexel, and Philadelphia Textiles. The doubles team of Julie Timmins and Margaret McAuliffe hooked up for the best doubles finish among the Lady Rams. Strength in singles matches were shown by Heather Bell, Erica Byrd, Jefferies, Timmins, and McAuliffe.

SWIMMING & DIVING

She was the top competitor last year, and continued to set school records and break personal bests this season. Mattea set a school record of 9.45 on the balance beam during the Southern Conn. meet. Charney closely followed Mattea's performances; many times only a mere tenth of a percent separated the two gymnasts' scores. Strong performances were also seen from seniors Lori Martin, Monica Rhoten, Staci Hudson and sophomore Amy Oswandel.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

Full Speed Ahead

The men's basketball team, led by the senior co-captain duo of the unrelated Blairs - Chet and Damien - finished the 1995 season 17-10 overall, and 8-4 in the PSAC. Early in the season a win to Edinboro secured the Rams their 1,000th career win. A disappointing loss to Millersville almost dropped the Rams out of PSAC and NCAA Division II playoffs. The team won a battle with Pitt-Johnstown for sixth place in the PSAC finals, only to be handed a loss by powerhouse Millersville for the third time. This loss dashed all hopes of the team reaching the NCAA Championships. Although the team did not make the NCAA, this season marked the 5th consecutive winning season for the Rams. Strong contributions were seen from Tony Bolden, Jeff Campisi, Rich Lee, Chuck Hiller, Eric Worley, and T.J. Zanin.

The team beat Shippensburg in their final PSAC game, earning the Lady Rams their tenth PSAC championship title. Junior Kelly Kearns dominated the Shippensburg game, scoring six times. Laurie DiPietro, Laura Kirk, and Kati Coll also displayed their talent in the Ship game and also throughout the season. Five members of the team were named All-PSAC: Kearns, Kirk, Coll, goalie Sarah Sloop, and Melinda Forgione, who earned second-team honors. Sophomore Kati Coll was also named PSAC Rookie of the Year.

THE GOLDEN RAMS

Crossing the Field

The men's lacrosse team set out this season to defend their 1994 ECAC Division II championship. Although the men did not reach this goal, they ended the 1995 season with a respectable 6-7 overall record. The Rams held big victories over schools such as Swarthmore, St. Joseph's, and Scranton. Head coach Bob Brinton saw many outstanding performances from his team. Juniors Frank Collova and Greg McGee were key players in the season. Collova scored 44 goals for the season and 19 assists while McGee tallied 19 goals and 23 assists. Senior defenseman Eric Jackson helped out the team through his leadership and experience. Goalie Harry Oldham displayed his talent during the Salisbuy State game, where he managed to save an outstanding 22 goals on net. Other top performances were seen from Steve Stupka, Chet Laubach, Billy Sweeney, goalie Mike Tabasso, and Benji Krosin. The Rams gained lots of new talent from freshman Jesse D'Alonzo, Kevin Korb, and Matt Domenick. The combination of old and new talent will help the Rams be ECAC champs again.

SOFTBALL

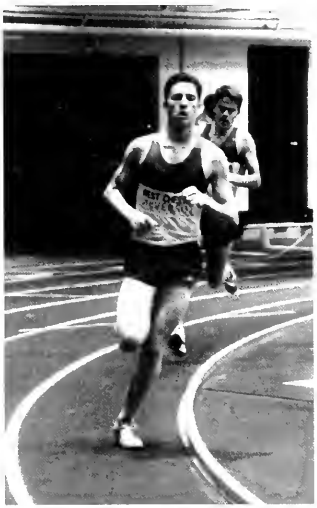
Reaching Home Plate

The Lady Rams softball team wrapped up the 1995 season with an 18-29 record, and finished 8-16 in the PSAC East. The season was a huge improvement over last year's disappointing 6-23 record. The 18 wins tied a previous WCU record, while the 8 PSAC victories set a record for the number of league wins. Senior Jenn Eck benefited the Rams with a .271 batting average, scoring 21 runs during the season. Eck was also named All-PSAC East for the second year in a row. Juniors Jen Mathews and Jodi Jordon proved to be one of the best up-the-middle combinations ever. Mathews led the team in batting, with an average of .357. Jordon ended her season as fifth on the team in batting, with a .289 average. Both Mathews and Jordon were named All-PSAC, along with freshman Adrien Palmer, who was named to the second team.

TRACK & FIELD

Ahead of the Pack

West Chester's track and field team saw the return of many talented male and female athletes who came prepared to compete in the 1995 season. Eight of the returning athletes were PSAC contenders, and were top finishers in their events again this year. Leading the men's team were PSAC medalist Peter Muir and Chris Day. Rounding out the men's team were Chris Herkins, senior Mark Ricketts, and Dan Dudrick and Mike Murphy. Junior, Valerie Uff brought experience and leadership to the women's team. Duane Sims and Leeia Ferguson returned to the women's team with experience in sprinting and hurdles.



MEN'S TENNIS

Power Swing

The Golden Rams men's tennis team sought to follow in the footsteps of 1994's season, when they earned second place at the PSAC Championships. Coach Mike Harding's team completed 1995 with a successful record and many talented players. Key players for the team were sophomore singles players Brian Leffler and Brian Wagoner. Sophomore Quang Nguyen teamed up with freshman Man Smith in a successful doubles team. Freshman Troy Miller aided the team with this strong singles performances. Freshman Will Luckowsky also had strong singles games, and teamed up with Smith to make a talented third doubles team.

Closing

It is now time to say goodbye to the class of 1995. As you venture out into your bright new futures we wish you good luck, happiness, and success. Although you may move far away or remain close by there is always something that will tie you together as the Class of '95—your Alma Mater.

West Chester, hail, all hail, noble and strong,
To thee with loyal hearts we raise our song.
Swelling to Heaven High, our praises ring,
West Chester, hail, all hail, of thee we sing.
Adapted-Charlotte N. Hardee

Although graduation day will probably be the last time that you will be together as the Class of 1995, your lives are tied in a way that will be never ending. It is a tie that has made you friends, classmates, roommates, colleagues, and fellow graduates. It is your Alma Mater and it is up to you to now carry forth what you have learned while here at West Chester University.

West Chester has given you the tools to build your future upon, it has taught you how to be successful, and although you are scarred, it has prepared you for that first step down the road of life.

Whether that road will make you a successful social worker, artist, teacher, musician, doctor, lawyer, chemist, administrator, physical therapist, historian, psychologist, accountant or nurse always remember what you have learned. Remember your times at WCU, your friends, and your experiences that have made you the person that you are today.

Congratulations and good luck to the Class of 1995.

— Suzanne M. Albrich

"I shall be telling this with a sigh.
Somewhere ages and ages hence;
Two roads diverged in a wood and I-
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference. "

— Robert Frost

Pamela Cook, Beth Oberly, Suzanne Albrich, Jennifer Wlodek, Celia Chung, Ed Patrick, Jr., Mike Durinzi

Suzanne M. Albrich was the Editor-in-Chief for the 1995 Serpentine. She is originally from Bethlehem, PA and graduated in May with a degree in Nursing. This book was the second book she has published as the editor-in-chief and the fourth book she has helped to create during her academic career at West Chester. Suzanne became part of the Serpentine staff at the start of her freshman year as the copy editor and moved up to the assistant editor position her sophomore year. She has held the editor-in-chief position since the Spring of 1993.

Suzanne is also a member of the Media Advisory Board, which she helped to establish in the Spring of 1994. She has also been a member of Alpha Phi International Fraternity since the Fall of 1992.

She plans to begin her career as a nurse in Cincinnati, Ohio. She will be married to WCU alumni, Jamey Strawn, in September of 1996.

Suzanne gives up her position with a heavy heart and hopes to someday incorporate her publishing experience into her role in the medical field. She will sincerely miss working with the staff and helping to create memories that last a lifetime.

Pamela Cook served as the assistant editor and the events editor for the 1995 Serpentine. Pamela is originally from Jobstown, NJ and will be graduating next May. She is a forensic chemistry major with plans to work in the field of DNA or arson investigation. Pam is also a member of the Media Advisory Board. She has been an asset to the staff for three years and will return to staff next year as the co-editor-in-chief.

Jennifer Wlodek, from Slatington, PA, was the Junior and Student Life Editor for the 1995 Serpentine. Jen, a Secondary Education Major, has been a part of the staff for two years and plans to return next year as the co-editor-in-chief. To Mike-for your support and kindness that will be missed next year. Don't let Pam and Jen be too hard on you!

To Diane DeVestern, Dave Tinman and Mary Shaw for their support.

To Jamey-for his love, encouragement and continued support that helped me to get through each day. Thank for for teaching me to take things one step at a time-it has made all the difference in helping me to reach my goals. I love you very much.

To my parents-for their love, support and guidance over the past 21 years, but especially over the past four. Thank you for believing in me. Do I really have to get a job now?!
